The year that has just closed may be looked upon as the most eventful one in the history of our town. The prospect before us a year ago was not by any means bright. In the first few months the city suffered by reason of several disastrous fires. Later when we lost Central University, it was said that the town had received its death blow. The failure of the crops caused a loss of thousands of dollars to the town and county. Notwithstanding all these misfortunes, the city has gone right on improving, business has steadily grown better and real estate has increased in value. There has been a great increase in population, owing to the coming of new industries, and there is more money in circulation than ever before. The building of the last six months exceeds what was done in the whole of the ten years before. There are but few loafers on our streets and none who are necessarily idle. So when we can put everything—the good with the bad—it will be seen that, notwithstanding the heavy losses, we have made wonderful progress. Right here on the first day of the new year, we have the opportunity to take another step toward prosperity. We know the cost and we would be but poor business if we could not see the profit of the investment.

A COMMITTEE from St. Louis, made up of influential ex-Kentuckians, will visit the Kentucky Legislature for the purpose of securing the St. Louis World's Fair. They hope to persuade the Legislature to make a large appropriation to the end that the State may be fitly represented at the Fair. On the committee are ex-Gov. David Rowland Francis, Hon. Henry B. Hawes and Hon. Breckinridge Jones, all of whom are Kentuckians and representative citizens of St. Louis.

In his biennial report, Adj. Gen. D. R. Murray recommends an increase in the annual appropriation of the State militia from $750,000 to $1,000,000. He disposes at length the Hopkins county census and urges that the non-resident miners be compelled to leave the county.

The Electric Road.
The Fiscal Court met Saturday to consider the granting of the electric railway franchise for which a petition was made about ten days ago. Judge M. C. Alford, of Lexington, representing the company, and County Attorney Cobb looked after the interests of the county. Nearly every member of the board of the county, and a number of the citizens of the town and county. Mr. Cobb, at the beginning of the meeting, stated that he had conferred with the Attorney of another county, who had looked into the matter and who understood how such roads were conducted in the North and East. He stated that they had modified the petition of the railway people in such a way as to more fully guard the interests of the county. Both petitions were read and such changes as were made were not objected to. The court voted in favor of the franchise, and Mr. Cobb was authorized to draw up the papers to be finally filed next Friday.

The question of granting the franchise is practically settled, as what will be done Friday will be merely a matter of form. The company agrees to begin, in good faith, the construction of the road between Richmond and Lexington during the year 1902, and to finish the work within three years, barring all time lost in bona fide interruptions and suits. They were granted the right of way along the Richmond and Lexington or the Tate Creek pike, a choice to be made after the survey. They were also granted the franchise to extend their line to the Rockcastle and Jackson county lines.

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning it is extremely hazardous to neglect, so important is a healthy action of these organs. They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy foreboding and despondency.

"I had pains in my back, could not sleep and when I got up in the morning felt worse than the night before. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and now I can sleep and get up feeling rested and able to do my work. I attribute my cure entirely to Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. J. N. Frazee, care H. S. Copeland, Pike Road, Ark.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills
Cure kidney and liver troubles, relieve the back, and build up the whole system.

months, Miss Ann Freeman was released from suffering by death on Sunday morning. Miss Freeman had spent the whole of a long and useful life in our city. She was one of our useful women who will be sorely missed.

James Madison was arrested at City's Ferry last Wednesday for shooting at Dillard King the night before. Valentine Towney, who was with Madison, and for whom a warrant was issued, made his escape, and has not been captured. Madison was brought to town but was afterwards released on bail.

Arbuckle and Simmons.
Arbuckle and Simmons is the name of the new hardware firm beginning business this morning. Mr. C. E. Douglas, who has been in the hardware business for nearly fifteen years, has retired, and Mr. James Arbuckle takes his place. The ad. of the new firm will appear in our next issue. Messrs. Arbuckle and Simmons are both well known and popular young men and will claim a good share of the patronage of Madison county.

Stranger Disease Killing Cattle.
It is said that scores of cattle are dying in Woodford county from a disease, the cause of which is a mystery. Most of the cattle affected have been fed upon corn fodder and the first theory was that they were poisoned by "corn smut," which is present upon the stalks in unusually large quantities this year. Another belief is that the animals died from eating too much dry feed without enough salt and water. The farmers are at loss to know the real cause and the individual losses are beginning to be serious.

The Lyric Ladies.
So emphatic has been the success of this most admirable organization for several seasons past, there is little to be said of it to enlighten, except that it is constantly adding to its strength by the infusion of new material, always aiming to surpass, if possible, its past artistic merit. The Lyric Ladies have sung themselves into the hearts of the people throughout America, as many letters and notices attest, and they stand today unrivaled by any similar organization before the public—all are cultivated soloists. This attractive band will be at Masonic Temple on the evening of January 6. Don't fail to hear them.

A Strange Family.
Thomas Kelley, of the Combs neighborhood, tells the CLIMAX that he has four pigs which have been brought up by a fox hound. Several months ago the mother of the pigs was put up to fatness. At the time the pigs were quite small and hardly able to root for themselves. An old fox hound, at that time on the orphan in their distress, at once became their companion and protector. The pigs are now well grown, and they still cling to their adoptive father. The only drawback about the strange family is that every time Mr. Kelley wants to go hunting he has to pen up the pigs to keep them from joining in the chase.

Some School Statistics.
The annual report of State Superintendent McChesney contains some interesting figures. During the past year 82,000 white children and 75,000 colored went to public schools. Of these 380,000 white and 380,000 colored were in the schools, and attendance was 235,000 white and 31,000 colored, much less than half the total number.

To teach these children cost $6.50 for each white child, and $7.40 for each colored child. It took 7,000 white teachers and 1,200 colored teachers. The wages of the white teachers averaged $24 per month and the colored $30 per month. The County Superintendents get on and average $600 each per year.

Small Fox.
RICHMOND, KY., Dec. 26, 1901.
Editor Climax:
There is an opinion expressed that the town of Derburn is quarantined, which is not true, only the infected houses are quarantined. People having business in that place can go and come at will, so that they do not visit the infected houses. This is written to do justice to the people of that place. They are law abiding and are doing all in their power to aid the health officers. Under the present management no fear need prevail among the people, for everything is being done to stamp out the disease.

Installation of Officers.

White Lodge, No. 43, K. of P., will install to-night the following officers for the ensuing term: A. C. Wells, C.; N. B. Turpin, V. C.; F. J. Yeager, Prelate; R. P. Gregory, M. W.; D. Buckley, M. of F.; C. G. Hooker, M. of E.; Clyde Hart, K. of R. and S.; Thos. E. Mack of A. C. Chas. Jacobs, I. G.; L. T. Wilson, O. G.; E. Berry, Trustees. All members are requested to be present this evening as there is business that must be transacted.

Suit for Back Taxes.
Auditor's agent F. Stanley Watson has filed information at Maysville against the Vanderbilt interests, against the Mason County Court to assess them for county and State taxation for every year since 1892 on their Chesapeake and Ohio railway stock, valued at $186,000. The petition sets forth that the Vanderbilts control the Maysville and Big Sandy railroad under a ninety year lease and that it has never been listed for taxation. The case is set for the March term of the Mason County Court.

Trial to-Morrow.
James Madison was arrested at City's Ferry last Wednesday for shooting at Dillard King the night before. Valentine Towney, who was with Madison, and for whom a warrant was issued, made his escape, and has not been captured. Madison was brought to town but was afterwards released on bail.

Citizens Meeting.

A citizens meeting was held at the City Hall Monday night to discuss some plans to raise the $50,000 necessary to secure the location of the car shops. Mr. Clarence E. Woods was Chairman of the meeting. Although the attendance was not large, every one present was very enthusiastic in the cause. Several plans were proposed and discussed. It was finally decided to refer the matter to the City Council. The Council will meet tomorrow night, when the question will be brought up and acted upon. Whatever part of the amount required cannot be raised at once, will be collected by private subscription. In that way the matter will be brought before each individual and each will have an opportunity to help the town along by contributing a small amount to the fund which will go far toward promoting the growth and prosperity of the place. Every business man and every public spirited citizen of Richmond is urged to turn out and help this enterprise along.

Captured the "Possum."
Prof. L. C. Hunt, of the Walters' Collegiate Institute, was going home at a late hour, one night last week, and when crossing the stile into the Campus he heard a peculiar noise in the hedge. His attention being attracted by it, he decided to investigate. What he at first supposed to be a cat, his prey, he found was a fat, grisly "possum." The sight of the animal brought back the memories of his boyhood days, and, imagining for the time that he was once again on his native heath, roaming in the pine woods of old Virginia, as the temptation was too great to withstand, he gave chase. Before possum took refuge in a neighboring tree and, from his perch, grinned in derision on his pursuer. However, it was not long before the Professor's unerring broom had caught the creature, and he was taken to the grounds for a worthy colored man feasted on the dainty morsel with Teddy. The animal's hide was returned to the hunter who will probably have it mounted, or at least keep it as a memento, his first scalp taken on Dark and Bloody soil.

"At Valley Forge."
"At Valley Forge," Wm. L. Roberts' colonial drama, which will be seen for the first time in this city at the Opera House where it began last week's engagements, is a play on a most interesting subject and deals with the love story of a dashing Captain of General Washington's Continental Army and a charming Tory maid, whose home is situated near the winter camp of the Continental troops at Valley Forge. The dialogue is brisk and convincing and epigrammatic in its point, while the comedy is brought out in an easy manner. The play is mounted in an unusually elaborate manner showing the quaint architecture and splendid costumes of the period. It is surrounded by the days of our colonial ancestors. The present company is one of unusual merit and is headed by Mr. William L. Roberts and Miss Olive Martin, who will be seen in the leading role. It was presented at the Grand, at Atlanta, Ga., and at McClellan Theatre, Louisville, where it secured a tremendous success. The prices are 25, 50, 75c and $1.

Pathetic Appeal.
Here is the way the editor of the Lebanon Enterprise gets at his subscribers: "Dear, darling delinquent. Our precious subscriber in arrears! Do you think we have sold out and gone West to mingle with the grasshoppers? No, no, little sugar-plum, we could not get away if we wanted to. We are still at the old stand discharging the duties of our position with the same old expectations. These make an excellent diet, darling, with a little wind pudding, flavored with a word of encouragement, to serve as a desert. We are waiting and watching for thee, turtle dove. We long to hear the sound of thy feet on the footstep of the stairway below and hear the 'silver ring' of thy happy voice within our lonely sanctum. Dear one, we feel unusually sad and lonely without you to-night. We sigh for one glance of your eye and even half you one. Don't see how we can possibly live happily without you. Write, write, write, and do all we can to advance the kingdom of God.

The Y. M. C. A.
The Executive Committee of the Y. M. C. A. is still making great progress in the work of organizing the Association in this city. Elegant rooms have been leased, in the building occupied by Arbuckle & Simmons, and arrangements are now being made for furnishing them. There will be parlors, reading room, bath rooms, class rooms, etc. Mr. C. R. Boucher, formerly of Owensboro, has been engaged as Secretary of the Association for next year. He is a man of wide experience in the work, and will be a great asset to the Association. The Association has placed the membership fee at the very low figure of $4 per year. This gives the person joining the right to all the privileges of the Association, including the bath. From the present outlook it seems that the membership in the city will be large. Mr. Boucher will not only work in town, but will extend the work all through the county. Associations will be organized at Kiki's, Paint Lick, Waco and Berea, and probably in other places, so that the county will be gathered into one field.

In The Tolls Again.
Deputy Sheriff R. W. Colver arrived Saturday night from Nevada, Mo., with Cash Grant, a notice of whose arrest was made in these columns last week. Grant has been charged with the country for a number of years, but would always make his escape before the officers could lay hands on him. Once before leaving the county, two deputies went to arrest him at his father's home. He had been in the leg a few days before that, and was at the time confined to his bed. He persuaded them to let him stay at home and gave bond to appear in court at the proper time. That was the last the officers ever saw of him. He left the State immediately after Mr. Colver was elected. Since going to Missouri he has married and has two little children. His wife had a brother in the Philippines, and it was by their correspondence that Grant was located. After his arrest he was confined to the Missouri officers to having killed a man in this county. He stated that he was sent to the penitentiary for 20 years. He figured prominently in the great prison riot at Frankfort several years ago, in which a number of convicts and guards were killed. He was engaged to marry a girl named Mary, but she was killed in the riot.
